Reflections of the INTEGRO exhibition by Heim and Rincon:

The INTEGRO Exhibition provided an opportunity for us to express our diverse yet parallel journey's and proved to be an invitation for the viewer as well . . . to experience one's own journey, while reflecting our own journey. Nearing the close of the exhibit we find ourselves enveloped in grace and empowered with humbleness as we move forward along life's way - an eternal invitation to integrate self-actualization while living our full potential and embracing the simplicity of authentic happiness. Blessings that we may each continue to foster creative, fun and soulful ways to celebrate the freedom of the human Spirit and it's ever evolving growth.
